

Australia Awards – Africa Leadership Prizes

Sandra Vegting Leadership Prize Recipients (Australian High Commission, Port Louis)

Year	Name	Gender	Country	Course	University	Status	Use of Prize/ Progress
2014	Bheema Ausgur	F	Mauritius	Master of Health and Medical Law	The University of Melbourne	Alumna	The Sandra Vegting Award made me eligible to follow leadership workshops concurrently while following my course at the University and go on an educational tour to meet professionals in my field. The educational tour was quite enriching as experience, as it allowed me to learn more about the course I was following, and I was exposed to a broader spectrum of Medical Law. I am now working as a State Counsel where am putting my skills and knowledge gained from the Masters in Health and Medical Law into practice when I have to deal with accident cases and also cases of medical negligence. After having returned from Australia, I think and approach situations from a different perspective. I'm more organised, believe in teamwork and listen to my team and keep on learning every day.
2015	Mary Daniella Allas Guillaume	F	Mauritius	Master of Public Administration (Policy)	Flinders University	Alumna	No feedback. She is non-committal and has never responded to e-mail or telephone calls.
2016	Herizo Harimalala Tsiverisoa	F	Madagascar	Master of Development Studies	The University of Melbourne	On-award till 31 Dec 2018.	Despite various reminders by Mark W., DC in person and Anthea, Zo has not been responsive in finalising her activity in time. Anthea is still following up with her. Zo's response: I apologize for being so slow. I am in Malawi and access to connexion is challenging. An internship is part of my master program and may include international travel. Therefore, I would like to use the sum to pay for my flight or other expenses related to my internship program. Concretely, the sum will be paid to an Australian travel agency. The issue is that although I am enrolled in my international internship subject, the field trip (probably around mid-October 2018 in Jaipur India) is not finalized by the host organization yet. As soon as I got all the details, I plan to submit my application to use the $2000 for approval.

2017	Rina Razafimahefa	F	Madagascar	Master of Health, Safety and Environment	Queensland University of Technology	On-award, scholarship started on 18 June 2018.	No uptake yet – too early.
